

Reference Letter for Rakesh Nagaraju

To Whom It May Concern

I am contented to endorse this Letter of Recommendation in favor of Mr. Rakesh Nagaraju, who wants to pursue higher studies in Computer Science at your esteemed University. As a Project Manager at Capgemini India Pvt. Ltd., I have had the opportunity to work closely with Rakesh for period of 2 years. In this time frame, I found him to be a profound analytical thinker. I can confidently assert that his meticulous approach towards problem-solving makes him a suitable candidate for your program.

I am associated with Capgemini for almost 5 years 8 months now and have worked with several Analysts during these years. No doubt, Rakesh distinguished from others with his unique analytical thinking skills but I was also extremely impressed with his ability to adapt and learn our processes quite quickly. When he entered Capgemini, he had a strong will to explore and eventually learnt to analyze Business requirements within a very short period. Needless to say, his zeal and motivation towards learning is unwavering.

Rakesh has an eye for detail and this quality of his surfaced when he was assigned to perform a code review. He had worked round the clock to give his best shot to get client satisfaction. His comprehensive, detailed and thorough analysis for production issues helped us to increase work efficiency while delivering the products.

Talking about Rakesh's collaboration with his co-workers, I would say that he has always maintained a cohesive work environment all around. He has exceptional listening abilities, and would encourage all for giving opinions and perspectives before any decision was made. Not only did he motivate people around him towards maximum efforts but also inspired them by setting a new benchmark with his dedication and disciplined demeanor.

Self-motivated, Rakesh had always required minimal supervision during his association with Capgemini. He has always met the allotted deadlines and is flexible to work on different projects. His diligence, outgoing personality, and energy have made working with him both a memorable and a pleasant experience. As such, he has my highest recommendation. I am confident that Rakesh will succeed in his future endeavors and excel in your graduate program.

Should you have any further query regarding Rakesh's candidature, please feel free to contact me on the below mentioned details.

Sincerely,
